St. Louis, Missouri — February 21, 2025 – The Higher Education Loan Authority of the State of Missouri (the “Authority”) would like to retire the series of notes referenced above (the “Notes”). Pursuant to the indenture pursuant to which the Notes were issued, the Notes are not subject to redemption until the aggregate principal balance of the loan portfolio securing such Notes is 10% or less of the original principal balance of such portfolio. However, the redemption provisions of the indenture may be amended to permit a redemption of the Notes with the consent of the registered owners of a majority in collective aggregate principal amount of the Notes outstanding.

The Authority announced today that it has commenced a consent solicitation (the “Consent Solicitation”) for consents of owners of the Notes to amend the indenture to permit the redemption of all, but not part, of the Notes issued under the indenture from any source of funds at a redemption price of 100% of the principal amount outstanding, plus accrued interest, without premium.

The amendment of the indenture and the determination of the Authority to redeem the Notes shall be independent of any other student loan asset backed obligations issued by the Authority. In addition, while the Authority presently plans to seek similar consents for its other outstanding student loan asset-backed obligations.

The Consent Solicitation will expire at 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on March 24, 2025, unless extended or earlier terminated by the Authority. In order for the indenture to be amended, the registered owners of a majority of the collective aggregate principal amount of the Notes Outstanding must consent to and approve execution of a supplemental indenture authorizing the redemption of the Notes.
